

Colloquium in Sociology

Fall Semester 2023, Tuesday from 4:30 p.m.
Place: hybrid, 325-A (Mita Campus, Keio University)
Organized by Prof. Takemitsu Morikawa

October 3rd (online)                      Kosuke Sakai (University of Kobe): Continuity and Permanence of Functionally Differentiated Societies: A Case Study on the Formation of the Welfare State.

October 31st (hybrid)                      Zuhaib Ali Lashari (Shah Abdul Latif University, Pakistan): Causes and consequences of domestic violence against women: a sociological study of district khairpur mirs Sindh, Pakistan.

November 14th (hybrid)                      Jochen Dreher (University of Konstanz, Germany): Critical Phenomenology of Power.

November 28th (hybrid)                      Yang Hao (Keio University, Graduate School): Modern state represents nationality? Problem left in Max Weber's Inaugural Address of 1895.

December 12th (online, from 6 pm)      Christian Morgner (Sheffield University, UK): Spatial Barriers and the Formation of Global Art Cities: The Case of Tokyo.

January 16th (hybrid)                      Kazumasa Oda (Hokkaido University): On the Norbert Elias Problem in Relational Thinking: Toward a Social Theory of the Coexistence of Differences.

Please ask the organizer if you want to join us: morikawa@flet.keio.ac.jp